This morning I told mum about all of the fruit that Grandpa grows. After lunch we went shopping. Mum seemed a little annoyed. At the Supermarket I saw lots of fruit including apples, bananas and grapes. I told mum that I still thought Grandpa's fruit would be better. Mum filled the shopping trolley with a pineapples, a juicy watermelon and some crunchy apples. When we got home, Mum said help yourself to some fresh fruit. I shook my head and said no thank you. I only helped Grandpa but I didn't eat any fruit. In the afternoon Gran and Grandpa came over to see me and I felt happy when Grandpa saw the fruit Gran said "fruit salad" and then we made fruit salad in the kitchen.
