

Cockapoo

19.01.21 By Daisy

Characteristics:

They have a lovely nature and are good around children of all ages making it the perfect family pet. Although they keep their cute puppy like features, if not socialised well your cockapoo may turn into a barker. Keep in mind that this breed thrives on human company and if your dog has a lot of this company then you leave them for a long time they can suffer from separation anxiety. They have their fluffy curly fur from their Poodle parent and their energetic playfulness from their Cocker Spaniel parent.

Desirable Characteristics:

They are intelligent and easy to train

They are hypoallergenic [Has a low shedding or non- shedding coat]

They come in all shapes colours and sizes

Why choose a Poodle and Cocker Spaniel

Poodles are fluffy and amazing in dog shows. The Cocker Spaniel has a playful and energetic personality. The two breeds put together make a Cockapoo.

Undesirable Characteristics

Problems such as ear problems and hip dysplasia may occur in later life.

Also suffering from food allergies and skin allergies is possible to.

Well- bred puppies are probably more expensive.

They need a lot of grooming especially on the front.

The negative effects of cross-breeding.

The negative effects are that the cross-breed can inherit illness and other medical needs. Although it doesn't happen with humans, dogs can inherit bad personality from their parents e.g biting problems, boisterousness etc.
