

Should children be educated at home or school?

People think children should be educated at school, but others think they should be educated at home. This is going to settle this argument.

In some people's opinion, school is better because you can socialise and bond with people your own age, learn to work as a team, this is a good skill for future references. Parents need to work and home schooling their child (ren) is a distraction. Lastly children get free school dinners so the parents don't have to cook much in the evening.

However, some people think it is better to home school their child (ren), because they have one to one time which you will not have at school, you can have many opportunities such as, learning outside and flexible time. They can go on runs in their lunch break, do exiting science experiments.

It turns out that there are negative and positives for each argument, there for it doesn't matter if you send your child to school or home school them.
